(Nor the Dispatch.) One Candidates for Congress.

Of all the wise men who to Congress would go
It rather seems strange that but two do I know;
One of them has some learning, and speaks very A story that is funny he likes much to tell; But often his arguments seem rather loose, And no change to our minds can they ever produ He humburs the people with statements absurd And as wicked and foolish as ever were heard.

lie tells them they are robbed and most awfully cheated.
That never were people more shamefully treated;
He promises all that is wrong to set right.
If in voting for him they would only unite.

If to do so they fail he prophe sies evil, And declares they are surely possessed of the devil. And will ruin themselves, and the Government. Of fools there are many; of wise men but few.

Our salvation or ruin just turns on one point; The affairs of the nation are much out of joint; But send him to Congress, then all will be well, And things will go lively like a sweet wedding-bell

Poor Sam, I am afraid, has mistaken his calling; About robbing the people he is eternally bawling. Rut how they are robbed he cannot make clear, For sugar is cheap; bread and meat are not dear.

Every man that will work his debts can all pay.
And have something over for a dark, rainy day;
If in debt men will go, there is trouble ahead,
For the idle and lazy will soon want for bread. If we send Sam to Congress our cause he will disgrace;

On a sandy foundation our hopes we can't place;
His knowledge is shallow, his judgment too weak;
No high post of honor should he ever seek.

Wonderful Escape from Death.

Mr. J. D. Jameson, Southern Express messenger, informs us that the most wonderful escape from instant death he ever had the fortune of witnessing was made by a colored man by the name of Ben.
Johnson, who was sleeping on a trestle that had been recently filled in between Cartersville and Lynchburg on the Wilmington, Charlotte and Augusta railroad. The engine to the train that left Wilmington Friday night, August 2d, bound for Columbia, struck this man, throwing him up in the air and down the embank ment fully thirty feet. The engineer, Mr. Polk, stopped the train and went back, of course thinking to gather up the mangled remains of the victim; but to his astonishment and to the surprise of all present, he found the man alive and apparently uninjured, with the exception of a broken leg. He was put aboard of the train and left on the platform at Lynchburg. Mr. Jameson says that in a conversation be had with the injured man the latter assured him that he had not been drinking. It is the general opinion that he sat down to rest and fell asleep. The engineer says the engine threw bim as high in the air as he had ever known it to throw a cow under similar circumstances, and also states that he discovered the dark object on the track, but of course too late to stop his train. After Johnson was put off at Lynchburg one of his colored friends started for a physician to come to his assistance.- Wilmington Star.

THREE PERSONS KILLED AND FOUR SE-RIOUSLY INJURED .- Parkersburg, W. Va., August 5.-Probably one of the most destructive explosions occurred at the Enter-prise saw-mill, on the Little Kanawha river about forty-five miles above here, last evening, that has ever happened in this section of the State. John Parr, Frank Dilworth, and George Avery were instantly killed, and Dent Park and three others were fatally injured. The mill is a total loss, being valued at $5,000. There was no insurance on the property.

BREAKING OF A RESERVOIR. - Canton, Pa., August 6.—This village was visited last night by a heavy thunder-storm. The reservoir belonging to the Canton Water Company gave way between 12 and 1 o'clock, doing considerable damage. The large sash- and blind-factory belonging to Coon & Brain was entirely swept away, together with several barns and shops. Many dwelling-houses were filled with water, the inmates barely escaping with their lives. Most of the bridges on Towarda creek have been swept away. No lives were lost.

CLEAR THE WAY for the escape from the system of its waste and debris, which, if retained, would vitlate the bodily fluids and overthrow health. That important channel of exit, the bowels, may be kept permanently free from obstructions by using the non-griping, gently-acting, and agreeable cathartic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which not only liberates impurities, but invigorates the lining of the intestinal canal when weakened by constipation or the unwise use of violent purgatives. The stomach, liver, and urinary organs are likewise re-inforced and aroused to healthful action by this be-neficent tonic and corrective, and every organ, thre. muscle, and nerve experiences a share of its invigora-ting influence. Unobjectionable in flavor, a most genial and wholesome medicinal stimulant, and owing its efficacy to botanic sources exclusively, it is the remedy best adapted to household use on account of its safety, wide scope, and speedy action.

FIRST-CLASS THREE-STORY

TUESDAY, 13th of August, at 6 o'clock P. M., that truly and most beautifully-located RESI-DENCE on Church Hill, now owned and occupied by Lemuel Powers, Esq. This RESIDENCE was built with the best material by Captain Libby, who, owing to its elegant location, spared no expense in making it all that could be desired, both as to comforts and durability. It has stock-brick on all sides, nine spacious rooms, besides closets. &c.; a brick kitchen with four rooms; both city and well water on the premises, and a bath-house; and a fine brick stable and carriage-heuse in the vard. The LOT is beautifully set in evergreens, fronts the park, and is 50x132 feet to an alley sixteen feet wide. Too much could not be said in respect to the grand location of this dwelling, being situated on one of the boldest promontories of the city, and with a small outlay in the construction of a Mansard roof, with observatory, the views of the city and river obtained from which would surness those of any location in observatory, the views of the city and river obtained from which would surpass those of any location in the entire city.

TERMS: One fourth cash; halance in six, twelve, and eighteen months, with interest added, and secured by a trust-deed. J. THOMPSON BROWN.
